

NJSNA Region 2
October 14, 2021
Virtual Conference

Dr. Valera Hascup is an associate professor and teaches in the nursing graduate program at St. Peter's University. Her academic expertise is in nursing research, evidence-based practice, and theory. She received numerous awards from National organizations for research, education, and leadership. She has presented at a great number of professional nursing conferences and will be presenting her recent study on Nursing Faculty Incivility and the Impact on the Nursing Shortage.

Dr. Tess Medina is the assistant Vice President for Behavioral Health Services at Clara Maass Medical Center and the newly elected president for the Philippine Nurses Association of New Jersey. Dr. Medina is a speaker of note and has received numerous commendations for leadership and her work in psychiatric nursing. Dr. Medina will be presenting on resiliency in the current healthcare climate--preventing burnout.

