New Jersey State Nurses Association Region 6 Bylaws

Mission Statement

Region 6 in accordance with the philosophy and bylaws of New Jersey State Nurses Association (NJSNA) comprised of professional nurses advances the profession delineating the practice of nursing through standard setting, education and research, formulating public policy, fostering excellence and quality of health delivery.

Philosophy

Region 6, a regional member of the New Jersey State Nurses Association (NJSNA), is organized for individual professional nurse members to participate in activities for the advancement of nurses and nursing and to promote the profession as an essential independent and distinct social service.

The Region asserts nurses' constituted authority to carry out defined functions while controlling and expanding the domain of interest and the scope and practice of nursing. As an advocate for all nurses within the profession, the Region acknowledges self-governance and promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion.

This Region characterizes and identifies itself with the improvement of the health of the society and continues to carry out a commitment and responsibility to ensure the continued growth of individually accountable nursing services by promoting ethical and optimal standards of nursing practice, education, administration, research, and service through established committees. To forward professionalism and the power necessary to carry out nursing's social contract, the Region reaches out to nurses through its structure, program and resources striving for one forum for the identification of the entire profession. The members of the Region share the following common beliefs from which the Region's actions and purposes emanate:

- Nursing is an essential part of the society it serves.
- Nursing is a professional practice discipline that includes the roles of care provider, educator and researcher.
- Nursing is the diagnosis and treatment of human responses to actual or potential health problems.
- Nursing is dynamic and responds to the health needs of those served.
- The membership is responsible for the enunciation and maintenance of high standards for nursing practice.
- The Region is concerned with the professional growth of its members and requires continuing education of its members so that the needs of people will be met in changing societal conditions.
- The Region's membership strives for nursing care of the public that is qualitative, accountable and autonomous.
- The Region serves as a unified voice on nursing issues in counties comprising the Region and cooperates with other health care organizations for the improvement of health standards.
- The Region advances the economic and general welfare of nurses to make it possible for nurses to practice through participative decision-making.
- The Region invites nurses to engage in socially significant work, to increase knowledge through research, to protect nurses and to develop leaders.
